

Redhills

Redhills Durham is a significant cultural and historical site located in Durham, England. It serves as the headquarters of the Durham Miners' Association and is known for its Miners' Hall, which is often referred to as "Durham's other cathedral." The hall, designed in Edwardian Baroque style, opened in 1915 and has been a hub for community activities and cultural events. It hosts various events, including guided tours that explore its rich history and the impact of the mining industry on the community. The hall has undergone restoration and renovation, aiming to enhance its role as a centre for culture, education, and community engagement.

Nearest town/city: Durham > 5 min (2.6 miles)

Nearest station: Durham Station > 2 min (0.3 mile)

Nearest direct to London: Durham Station > 5 min (0.8 mile)

Nearest airport: Newcastle International Airport > 34 min (23.6 miles)

Nearest unit base: Sniperely Park and Ride, Durham DH1 5RA > 6 min (1.7 miles)

What3words: ///metals.bath.speak

Production history: N/A

Website: Home | Redhills Durham | Empowering Durham Coalfield Communities

